

Ultrasound Technologist (General/Vascular/Echo)

CMMS Mobile Imaging Services

CMMS, a leading portable imaging company in Texas is seeking an Ultrasound Technologist for full-time employment.

Our CMMS US Techs will:

- be a member of the direct patient care team and be fully competent in ultrasound examinations
- complete exams in a timely manner
- communicate effectively and efficiently with dispatch associates
- be comfortable working independently
- adhere to ultrasound exam standards and guidelines to ensure the optimum in patient safety and customer service
- be able to multi-task while remaining detailed and organized
- execute above-average clinical skills and be able to handle patient care situations in a professional manner
- have access to a reliable vehicle and maintain a valid driver's license and vehicle insurance (depending on the service area, US Techs may be provided a company vehicle)
- be able to take on-call and weekend shifts as needed
- have either RDMS, RDCS, or RVT certifications

We are looking for applicants based in the Nacogdoches/Lufkin, Tyler/Longview, Houston, and Beaumont areas. This position will require daily driving to service locations.

We offer competitive pay and excellent benefits to eligible team members.

Send your resume to fran@cmmsxray.com